This allows the saved funds to be allocated to improving school resources.

In the first week using the Auto Cut system, we obtained immediate results, with this system in use in this area; usage went to 2 hand towel per week. I highly recommend this system to anyone wishing to save money, and use a high quality product.

Catherine McAuley Westmead, a Catholic girls' high school with around 1100 students, has been using the Jaws system for some time in the students' and staff washrooms. We have found it to be a very effective product in use and from a WHS perspective. It is both robust and easy to use and also is HAACP compliant.

We have been using the Royal Touch Mini Autocut since the start of 2016. This is a great solution for us. We have been able to reduce waste and excess usage. The pre-cut towels makes it easy to only use what you need. Our cleaners have noticed they now don't need to change the rolls quite as frequently.
